

WESTERLY

President A. P. Dutton of the Western town council has received a number of letters from cottage owners at Watch Hill demanding a right enforcement of the traffic laws at the Hill next summer. The contents of all the letters is practically the same, each writer asking for better police protection, while others mention improvements in the highways. These letters will be brought before the February session of the council and the matter will be fully discussed. It has been suggested by one of the town officials that it might be well to take one or two officers from the Western force, provided additional police protection is needed at the Hill the coming summer. It is held that since the prohibition law went into effect there has not been so much doing in local police circles and two men from the town force could be spared during the summer months.

The weekly whists being held by the parish of the Immaculate Conception are proving extremely popular. Over 400 were present Wednesday evening. Father Laurence J. Kelley who has just returned from a visit to England and France, gave a short talk on his experiences and at the completion of his address, he was presented a walking stick by the parishioners. Piano solos were rendered by Miss Marion Kinney and refreshments were served.

The harvesting of Westerly's ice began Thursday at Noon bridge. The ice here averages about 8 inches in thickness and is as clear as crystal. A Materses of Pleasant street, who has a 2,500 ton plant at the bridge, has employed a large gang of workers, and the ice house is fast being filled.

On the ice pond in Avondale, the ice is reported to be only 4 inches thick, and is not yet ready to be harvested. It is thought that the presence of a number of springs in the pond is the reason for the ice not making faster.

Eight inch ice is being harvested by Joseph Lee, who has leased the plant of the Ningret Ice company, located on the Potter Hill road. This house holds about 1,200 tons. Mr. Lee expects to begin cutting on the Weststock pond Saturday. If the favorable weather continues for the next three days, the dealers predict that the ice crop for this locality will be harvested and the ice houses filled.

A letter was read Wednesday at the meeting of the Pawcatuck W. C. T. U. from Mrs. Susan S. Vaughn of Providence, the oldest charter member of the organization. Mrs. Vaughn recently celebrated her 90th birthday. She joined the union August 16, 1891. At that time she lived on Mechanic street.

LACONAS

The High school is being run on a new schedule this week while the mid-year examinations are being held. Fire Chief George E. Egger was in Middleboro, Mass., Thursday to get parts for one of the motor trucks of the Western fire department.

Skating on local ponds is excellent, and numerous skating parties enjoyed the sport Thursday night.

William W. Bromley, who is ill at his home on the West Side, was attended by a specialist Thursday.

Richard Hodge has re-entered the employ of the R. I. Drug company. A number of Western young people attended the dance given by the American Legion in Myrtle Wednesday evening.

Thomas W. Curtin of John street, who is employed at the submarine station in Newport, has entered the Reagin hospital in Fall River, Mass., for treatment. Several years ago Mr. Curtin was shot in the leg at Pleasant View, and it is thought that the bullet was not extracted.

Rev. James Carroll, S. M., recent pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception has left for Mexico City, Mexico. Father Carroll came here a short time ago to take the place of Rev. Laurence J. Kelley but the climate did not agree with him and necessitated his transfer. As Father Kelley has returned from his trip to Europe, he will be pastor for the present.

STONINGTON

Burdick; treasurer, Thomas Wilkinson; delegates to convention, Thomas Wilkinson and Alexander P. Loper; substitutes, Robert L. Burdick, Edward A. Monie. The annual meeting of the wardens and vestry followed and the following committees were chosen: Property and repair committee, Thomas Wilkinson, Alexander P. Loper, Robert L. Burdick, Albert Fort, Edward A. Monie; music committee, Thomas Wilkinson, Alexander P. Loper, Albert Fort, Frank F. Dodge; sexton committee, George G. Hallett, Ernest F. Williams, P. LaVerne Burdick. Arrangements are being made to celebrate the 74th anniversary of the establishment of the parish Sunday, March 6th and the following are to act as a committee to have charge, Rev. P. Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fort.

Notes Palmer and a big force of men put in good eight-inch ice from the pond on the Flanders highway this week. At the Sylvia pond, the Yerges Brothers have had a force cutting eight-inch ice and a good quality and large quantity was put in the house.

The school examinations will be concluded today (Friday) and Monday the last half of the school year begins. The blanks for the U. S. income tax returns have arrived in Stonington from the collector's office in Hartford. Returns must be made to him on or before March 15, 1921.

The meetings of Myra F. Douglas lodge, No. 18, D. O. E. H., is to be held in U. O. G. hall tonight (Friday). Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bergel have returned home from Willimantic. They were called there by the death of Mr. Bergel's father.

Sherman J. Swallow is spending this week with his daughter, Mrs. Noyes T. Mah, at Clark's Falls.

JEWETT CITY

Philip Melady, owner of a Malheur street garage, was at Bishop's crossing Wednesday evening with his big touring car. When he cranked it preparatory to starting, it backfired and in a minute the whole machine was ablaze and was totally destroyed. The machine was worth $2,000. While Mr. Melady's friends are sorry because of his loss, he is being congratulated that he fared no worse. As it was, his face and hands are badly burned. That he closed his eyes instinctively when his clothing caught fire saved his sight.

Mrs. Mary Palmer Bailey, 51, who died in Groton Wednesday, is a sister of Clark C. Palmer of Griswold. Mrs. Bailey was born in Rhode Island. She was the daughter of Mary Barber and Amos F. Palmer. She lived in Griswold and was married here. Her husband was an engineer on a boat during the Civil war. Since her marriage she has lived in Groton. One sister, Mrs. Harriett Lewis, of Waterbury, and two brothers, Clark C. Palmer of Griswold and William Palmer of Salamanca, N. Y., survive her.

Shea Bros. state that never before have they housed so much ice in one day as was done Thursday. And the work commenced at 8:30 and stopped at 5. Everything went smoothly and there were no delays.

Miss Ruby Thornton is confined to her home by illness.

A large number will attend the firemen's ball, which is always an event of the year. The music never fails to please and the lookers-on enjoy themselves as much as do the dancers. Anyway, the fire laddies, who are ready to save one's home from destruction at any time, day or night, deserve liberal patronage.

Mrs. Francis Campbell entertained the Ladies Aid society of the Baptist church Thursday afternoon. She was assisted by Mrs. W. H. Brown, Mrs. Edw. Roney, Miss Ida Foster and Miss Mabel McBroome.

"They WORK while you sleep"

Don't stay bilious or constipated, with year head dull, your stomach sour, gassy, upset. Take one or two Cascarets tonight sure for your liver and bowels and wake up clear and fit. Children love Cascarets too. No gripping—no inconvenience. 10, 25, 50 cents.

Firemen's ball, Flanagan's orchestra. Jewett City, tonight—adv.

"What do you think of the way the women voted?"

"It was fine," said Farmer Cornstossel. "If it came to a pinch I believe we could let the women tend to the voting while we men kept things going on the farm."—Washington Star.

Plans for an official reception were abandoned when his personal representatives told officials of the reception committee that he wanted no formalities and during most of the day he managed to escape the crowds gathered along the waterfront.

A committee from Miami conferred with Mr. Harding regarding plans for a formal reception at Miami, and were told that he would prefer to carry out his vacation programme without devoting attention to popular demonstrations in his honor. It is expected that the president-elect will spend several days after his departure from Miami fishing among the keys to the southeast.

PRESIDENT-ELECT HARDING IS NOW AT PALM BEACH

Palm Beach, Fla., Jan. 25.—President-elect Harding paid a visit to the fashionable colony here today on his vacation trip along the coast of Florida.

Changing his plans at the last moment, the president-elect spent several hours ashore and did not board his helicopter "Victoria" until late in the evening for the last lap of his southward journey to Miami. The Victoria does not run at night but will leave early tomorrow morning and is expected to reach Miami Saturday morning.

Building a crowd, Mr. Harding went ashore early in the afternoon. At the cottage of Joseph H. Riter, a friend of Henry P. Fletcher, who is a member of the Victoria's vacation party. After a private luncheon there he played eight-teen holes of golf and afterwards was a guest at a dinner at the Everglades club.

HAVE YOU GOT RED HAIR?

The first girl that walked into the first Self Service Shoe Store I ever opened, at 9 a. m., opening day, had red hair. I am superstitious, I'll admit, but I can't help it, that store proved a whale of a success.

Every store we've opened since the first red haired girl came in the store opening day, we have allowed to take her pick of the house, FREE, no charge whatever for any pair selected — for I honestly believe red haired girls are my lucky star. Funny isn't it how a fellow gets such funny notions
